About Us

Over 20 years' experience in medical provision and training.

Pre-hospital and in-hospital medical provision and training

For over two decades, Asgard Dynamics have offered pre-hospital and in-hospital medical provision to support GPs, hospitals, and event organisers in the UK.

We also deliver a suite of regulated qualifications for medical professionals.

What makes our medical provision and training different?

Only the most experienced, knowledgeable, and approachable clinicians form the backbone of our team, giving us the ability to seriously boost the efficiency and effectiveness of your organisation.

We have robust clinical governance and constantly review our practices against evidence based medicine.

Our structured and efficient team will always strive to achieve the gold standard whether in an educational, clinical, or supportive role.

In short, we multiply the effectiveness of your current team, and we are not to be underestimated.

What can our medical provision and training bring to your organisation?

Whatever your medical provision and training needs, we can provide the advice, planning, personnel, and equipment required to deliver our services to organisations of all sizes and in a variety of industries.

Here are some of the virtues that we can bring to your business.

Discipline

We maintain high standards of clinical governance in our working environment.

Integrity

We do what is right for the patient, always.

No ifs, no buts.

Hospitality

We believe in building strong relationships with our clients from the first interaction.

Reliability

Careful planning and organisation are key to effective medical provision and training. We won't ever let you down.

Humbleness

In the unlikely event that we can't offer the medical provision and training you need, we're humble enough to say so.

Simplicity

We won't baffle you with jargon, and pride ourselves on being straightforward to deal with.

Our Team

Read on to find out a little about each member of the Asgard Dynamics team.

Ian Greenwood BSc(Hons), MCPara

Role: Managing Director, Paramedic

After qualifying as a paramedic in August 2006, Ian spent 10 years with the London Ambulance Service. Towards the end of his time here, he worked for the Motorcycle Response Unit in the East End of London.

Following this, Ian moved into the educational sector. He worked as a lecturer in Paramedic Sciences at the University of Hertfordshire, and as a module lead at the University of Bedfordshire.

Ian also has several years' experience in working as a Resuscitation Officer in both specialist cardiothoracic hospitals and emergency departments.

Continuing his passion for education, Ian is currently partway through a PGCert. He is also an RCUK approved course director and an instructor for ALS and ILS courses.

He is a proud member of the renowned ATACC faculty, and is looking to undertake an MSc in Resuscitation and Emergency Medicine in 2023.

When not working, Ian enjoys long walks, abseiling, and spending time with his family.

Anna Williams MB/BS BSc (Hons), MRCEM, MRCP

Role: Medical Director

Anna's background is a mixture of emergency medicine/PHEM and General Practice.

She currently works as a Community Emergency Medicine Doctor alongside the ambulance service.

In what little free time she has, Anna enjoys teaching ALS and working as a crowd doctor.

She is looking forward to starting a year's work for South Wales Air Ambulance in August 2022.

Anna is a proud mum to two teenage children, as well as being a carer for her grandmother.

Rihab Adel MPharm IP ACP

Role: Lead Pharmacist, General Practitioner

Ms Rihab Adel is an accomplished senior clinical prescribing pharmacist with advanced assessment skills.

Following her 16 years of experience in both hospital and primary care, Rihab's focus shifted to the mental health sector.

Her primary care expertise relates to medicine optimisation in patients with chronic diseases such as asthma, diabetes, COPD, CHD, AF, HT, epilepsy, and acute illnesses. Rihab is passionate about supporting patients to ensure they get the best possible outcomes from their medicines.

An integral part of Rihab's role is clinical governance within Asgard Dynamics, ensuring high levels of professionalism, accountability, and governance. This includes policy writing and auditing.

Her time spent working with NHS 111 emergency services, along with her experience in developing previous training material, has given Rihab the invaluable skill set that has made her so well respected in this field.

Jim Walmsley MSc, PgCert, MCPara.

Role: Critical Care Paramedic Team Leader, South East Coast Ambulance Service

With a background of 18 years in pre-hospital critical care, Jim is a qualified Critical Care Paramedic. He initially trained and worked in Sheffield, while enjoying the city's back garden of the Peak District.

Completing an MSc in clinical research and a PGDip in critical care, he now resides in the mountainous region of the South East of England. Jim continues to share his passion for teaching offshore and alpine medicine, along with resuscitation courses such as ILS, ALS and EPALS.

A fluent Spanish speaker, Jim can be found kite surfing, climbing, running, or cycling when not on shift.

Nat Cole BSc\(Hons\), MCPara

Role: Tactical Level Manager, Event Ops, Paramedic Practitioner, Operations Manager

Nat started her career 20 years ago working for the London Ambulance Service. She initially worked as a paramedic, before becoming an Emergency Care Practitioner (now Paramedic Practitioner).

She went on to perform several roles, including GP home visits, working in an urgent treatment centre, and teaching first aid.

Nat also worked as a clinical supervisor for frontline staff support, providing stage oversight for clinicians requiring assistance at the scene of an incident.

Within the last few years, Nat took on more leadership roles, working within large events (operationally or tactically trained), in direct line management. She also worked as a serious incident manager, dealing with investigations of a sensitive nature or where someone had come to harm.

Nat says she feels very fortunate to have accumulated a wide variety of skills across a range of situations.

In her spare time, she enjoys spending time with her family and friends, horse riding and running.

Tanya Allbrook

Role: Senior Administrator and Human Resources

Tanya has over 10 years' experience of working within administration, including seven years within a clinical setting.

Tanya manages course bookings, direct email, telecommunications, and social media enquiries. She is the first point of contact for all Asgard Dynamics' new clients, and is here to assist you with any enquiries you may have during your time with us.

In her spare time, Tanya enjoys trying new creative outlets, gaming, and spending time with her family.

Katherine Greenwood

Role: Administrator

Katherine has over 10 years' experience of working as a customer services assistant. She has worked for several charities in this capacity, including the Royal Hospital Chelsea.

Katherine works alongside Tanya to help streamline your experience with Asgard Dynamics.

Outside of work, she enjoys hill walking, spending time with her family, and reading about historical events.

Associate Clinicians

Dr Eleanor Crowhurst:

Role: Clinical and Educational Advisor

Eleanor has worn many hats in her career to date, but currently works as a Senior Lecturer Practitioner at several universities. She teaches clinical skills to medical students and Physician Associates, as well as Non-Medical Prescribing and Assessment and Consultation.

Eleanor qualified as a doctor in 1992, and initially followed a path of surgical training. She spent two and half years in a research post, successfully running a study into the effect of resuscitation fluids on platelet function and coagulation in total hip replacements.

She then spent a further 12 years working in Emergency Medicine. After beginning her resuscitation teaching in 2007, Eleanor became an ALS Instructor, and then an ALS Medical Director in 2010.

Ross Philip Parkinson BA(Hons), DipHE, CertEd

Role: Paramedic, Technical Rescue Professional, Clinical Trainer

Ross was initially employed in the education sector as an instructor and FE/HE lecturer. Following this, he made the move to the emergency services in 2014, commencing a full time role with HM Coastguard.

Here, Ross worked as a Search and Rescue Mission Co-Ordinator, operationally and tactically managing civil maritime SAR incidents on UK coastlines, and in both British and international waters.

With a lifelong interest in pre-hospital care, Ross embarked on a vocational pathway alongside his full time work in 2017. This led to his progression to Technician level and culminated in his registration as a Paramedic.

Having taught extensively across the UK and internationally, Ross is a rare breed - an educator who converted to a clinical environment, rather than the stereotypical inverse. This has led to him becoming particularly passionate about clinical education.

He continues to pursue clinical roles both in hospital and pre-hospital care, continually striving to improve his practise, and hopes to explore postgraduate study in the future.

Ross remains active as an instructor in swift water and technical rope rescue, and enjoys the challenges of dynamic environments.
